

◆ Historical screen ● New WikiText windows

Some fixed directions retain their effect

Cost to predicting other tokens

Eight previously selected directions; $\alpha \pm 4$. n = new-corpus target-token count.

Left: paired 95% block-bootstrap intervals, 16 adjacent windows per block. Right: descriptive maximum cost; no interval on the maximum.

Token sets include fragments and whitespace. Permuted controls have unequal NLL costs; see the report.